This park just opened and features modular style concrete features. This open mix of elements includes a 2' mini spine ramp, very cool "C" curved ledge and low/high manual pads. The 4' mini ramp has a quarter pipe hip on one side, and a stairs set with down hubba ledge on the other. There is also a small pyramid with a ledge/rail combo and banked roll in for speed. A small round rail on the flat finishes out this park from Skate Concept.

The Everett skate park mixes a good combination of street features with some transition elements and an oval bowl. With plenty of ledges to grind and manual, you can loosen up and flow around the edges of the park. The center of the park features a pyramid and ledge combo, with banks and quarter pipes on either end. While this park was designed ages ago, it has withstood the test of time with a still current very fun flow.
